

Non-Profit Communications & Marketing Internship

Internship Description: Partners for World Health is looking for undergraduates, graduate students or recent graduates who have excellent oral and written skills, can communicate effectively, and are well organized. If you're able to work independently, have a positive attitude, and enjoy collaborating with a team in a dynamic work environment we'd love to have you.

This internship program is designed to provide students with an educational experience that complements their academic studies. Interns will have the opportunity to participate in the daily work and operations of a nonprofit from a communications standpoint.

Responsibilities include:

1. Update and maintain our blog
2. Create and post new content to all social media platforms (Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn) relating to our in-person and virtual events, container programs, and various fundraisers.
3. Support the development and maintenance of all print and electronic collateral including, but not limited to, newsletters, brochures, email blasts, and blog posts.
4. Support all press initiatives including press release writing, editing and media relations as needed.
5. Assist in developing virtual and direct appeals
6. Edit various videos

Qualifications:

- Undergraduates, graduate students or recent graduates
